To whom it may concern

I am writing to register that I have found the information on the intensification plans on my and other roads nearby hard to find and digest. The information has been buried in hard to download files. Sandbourne Avenue and Daybrook Road are not, in my opinion, suitable roads for intensification of building. The regeneration plans from a year ago or more was for intensification and regeneration of building on the London road, which is much needed and I fully support. Building more on these suburban roads, of much character, was not put forward as I recall. This seems like a mission creep to build on suburban roads with very little proper consultation.

I am writing to formally register my dissent to the plan.
