Q10 Do you have any comments on Section 8: Development management?

Yes.

Section 8.14 says that consultations on planning applications will last at least 21 days - my experience at the moment is that they typically last between 4 and 6 weeks. 21 days is far too short for most types of application.

Section 8.29 - all representations by the general public should be displayed on your website. This always used to be the case but the Council has recently taken to not doing this citing privacy concerns and the workload of having to remove personal details from emails. The Council needs to find a way around this because not displaying all reps on your website erodes the transparency of the system.

Thirdly, an ancillary issue - the Council should ensure that all documents that are uploaded onto your website in connection with applications are carefully dated - this should happen all of the time but unfortunately doesn't. This makes it very difficult for Interested Parties to follow any changes to applications.

Q10 Do you have any comments on Section 8: Development management?

Yes.

Section 8.16 outlines the types of application there is no statutory requirement to consult on. However, the Council does already routinely consult on many of these types of application. I have copied your wording below and added the actual application numbers of applications in the recent past as examples.

"Certificates of lawfulness of proposed use or development - eg 19/P0339; 14/P1527

Certificates of lawfulness of existing use or development Internal alterations only to a Grade II listed building Advertisements - eg 19/P2709, 18/P4386 amongst many others

Approval of details (exceptions are details for conservation area consents and external works to any listed building)

Revisions to planning applications once valid (eg 19/P3408)

Non-material amendments (eg 19/P3408)

Discharge of conditions (eg 19/P1626)

The above are just a handful of examples - there are many others on the Council's planning portal.

This transparency is extremely helpful to keep track of what's going on in the area and the impact it might have on Interested Parties.

In addition, in the table in Figure 7 under the column headed 'Type of application' - the wording in some rows has been cut off making it very difficult to reconcile in some cases what the Council will consult on (and how) with what it says there's no statutory obligation to consult on.

This whole section needs to be reconsidered and made much clearer in order for the public to form a view.

Q7 Do you have any comments on section 4: Accessible consultations and engagement?

No

Q8 Do you have any comments on Section 5: Our approach to involving the local community in planning?

Other than 'Promote the use of electronic methods of consultation including email and the council's website to make involvement easier, quicker and more cost effective', all other bullet points are too vague.

Q9 Do you have any comments on Section 7: Statutory development planning documents?

It is unclear other than the three estates listed in the Estate Local Plan 2018, where will the other regeneration take place. It will be useful to attach the links to all available documents for the community to see.

It will also be useful to have one web page where all the updates, documents, schedule for events will be stored so we don't need to go to sign up to all the facebook, email, etc to get all the information.

Q10 Do you have any comments on Section 8: Development management?

In 8.13 is there supposed to be a link to the planning permission website page? If so it's not working.

Q11 Do you have any comments on Section 10: Principles of engagement

Will be good to get a definition of the plan for wider morden town centre area. At the moment the local 2020 plan states it will be 'incremental redevelopment and change in the Wider Morden Town Centre Area when landowners are ready to invest in their properties.' Does this mean it will be down to independent private investors to develop the land. Also will there be a plan for social housing?

Q12 Do you have any other comments on the SCI?

Not enough clarity on the theme of the transformation, type of housing and space required to achieve 2000 units, criteria of selection of housing to be demolished to increase housing density, and plans on the wider morden town centre area including the mosque.

Q7 Do you have any comments on section 4: Accessible consultations and engagement?

Generally agree, but unless otherwise commanded by national legislation I see no need to for translation documentation into anything other than a recognised language of the British Isles (including BSL and Braille). I would like to see in consultations the submissions of representation not only in writing, but that facilities for the recording by audio, stenography or secretarial shorthand for verbatim or accurately edited notes be provided.

Q8 Do you have any comments on Section 5: Our approach to involving the local community in planning?

Seek views at the earliest possible stages and throughout the planning process. - Indeed this is not happening. For amendments these are not publicised sufficiently even if considered minor/immaterial. Additionally submissions should be fact checked and advertising huff and misleading and inaccurate statements in planning applications be directed to be removed from bundles submitted to officers and councillors to avoid bias language. Earliest opportunity includes a provision for a non-binding representation method at design review stage where relevant informed information can be submitted over and above the applicants submission and supposedly independent and professional review thereof. Where applications involve public realm or residences in the occupation of persons other than the land-owner there needs to be advertising that such items as may be in need of a planning involvement should be brought to the nearby public and the occupiers of land at the earliest point including any informal discussions and the basis for those discussions.

Q9 Do you have any comments on Section 7: Statutory development planning documents?

There is a problem in that the legal 'Soundness' of a plan may not necessary be the best plan for the or from a range of alternatives, reasons for deciding why individual elements of a plan are 'sound' should be clearly given. When there is an area of opportunity where generally there has been no previous development the rules for new development are valid. Where there is a change in the layout, density or similar where there is existing development the interests of those in occupation of that land, including the immediate surroundings of that land, need better protection, involvement and weight in dealing with that proposed development, particularly in respect of current Human Rights Act interests in Land and the present legal interpretation frameworks for that Act which go beyond protections in the "Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) Regulations 2012" which are deficient in reference to The Human Rights Act 1998 and Equalities Act 2010 notwithstanding the later date of the Regulations the earlier legislation takes judicial preference

Q10 Do you have any comments on Section 8: Development management?

Better enforcement at early stage of unauthorised development.
Better enforcement at construction stage and sign off of conditions to actually confirm that construction- particular to waste handling functions during and from occupation are compliant and that transport plans are adhered to (cycle storage and similar).

Q7 Do you have any comments on section 4: Accessible consultations and engagement?

It is often very difficult to hear clearly what is being said in a large hall, even without a hearing impairment. This is due to echo effects and poor delivery. Please ensure adequate amplification is always provided. Also, a written summary of information given would be useful, so that attendees can comment at a later date if they are not able to attend a meeting.

Q8 Do you have any comments on Section 5: Our approach to involving the local community in planning?

I have started commenting on planning applications a great deal and I would like that my representations are responded to so that I can be sure they have been taken into account. I would like my representations to be made public on the internet so that my view can be communicated to the applicant and anyone else who is interested (despite data protection issues). Similarly, I would like to view other peoples' representations. This is democratic and informative. It would be helpful to have the applicants contact details published on the planning applications, or for a link to be provided to ensure that comments can be passed to these people.

Q9 Do you have any comments on Section 7: Statutory development planning documents?

Current planning policy being used is out of date eg, the Mayor's Supplementary Planning Guidance is dated 2014. The Core Planning Strategy is dated 2011. #the new Local Plan will not be in place until 2021. Can you accelerate implementation of policies that support biodiversity in the light of more recent guidance: Mayor's draft London Plan, Policy G6, also the 2019 NPPF and NPPG:

<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/natural-environment> <https://www.gov.uk/government/news/protect-birds-when-building-says-james-brokenshire> Biodiversity and access to nature:

Q10 Do you have any comments on Section 8: Development management?

Can you ensure that all representations are referred to by the planning officers in their reports and correspondence with the applicants, so that advice and information can be communicated to the applicants. Can you publicise options for enhancements for biodiversity which are not necessarily mandatory, to the applicants. Applicants may adopt biodiversity measure within their plans once they know about features which are available. This would result in gains for biodiversity.

Q11 Do you have any comments on Section 10: Principles of engagement

Can you ask planning consultants and other consultation presenters to inform interested attendees of who to contact to make comments and how to contact developers, architects etc. Can you post information on upcoming consultations/presentations at libraries in prominent locations. It is difficult to find out what is going on locally without a regular local newspaper.

Q12 Do you have any other comments on the SCI?

Lots of people can manage emails, libraries and leaflets, but not many older people bother with twitter and facebook. It seems to be believed that twitter and facebook are mainstream methods of communication.

Q8 Do you have any comments on Section 5: Our approach to involving the local community in planning?

I live on Kingston Road. I received no notice of a consultation for the works at Dundonald Church. This is going to have a big impact on me in terms of noise, on the very first weekend we were woken at 8am on a Saturday. I later found out this was approved by the council ... I had no chance to object or submit. This needs to be a pro-active outreach by the council and the developers, you should come to US as local residents and not hide away consultations.

Q1 How did you hear about the consultation? Social media

Q2 What is your relationship to the borough of Merton? Other (please specify):
 I both live and work in the borough of Merton

Q3 What is your gender? Female

Q4 What is your age group? 45-54

Q5 How do you identify yourself? White British

Q6 Do you consider that you have a disability? No

Q7 Do you have any comments on section 4: Accessible consultations and engagement?

No

Q8 Do you have any comments on Section 5: Our approach to involving the local community in planning?

Yes.
 5.1 states 'we wish to ensure local communities are better informed about planning, its role...' etc.
 By failing to publish submitted comments on planning applications on the council website, you are not adhering to this aim. People who work, have children, or have mobility issues find it hard to make time or physically make the journey to the Civic Centre to look at hard copies of application comments - possibly on a repeated basis for a controversial application.
 This reduces democratic access to and transparency on planning matters and reduces information available to members of the public.
 This is backed up by point 3 in this section which states a council intention to use electronic methods of consultation 'including email and the council's website to make involvement easier, quicker and more cost effective'.
 Allowing residents to read and consider comments on planning applications via the planning portal is clearly easier, quicker and more cost effective than having to make repeated appointments with an officer to view comments which have - as this document states - had personal details redacted anyway.

Q9 Do you have any comments on Section 7: Statutory development planning documents?

No

Q10 Do you have any comments on Section 8: Development management?

Yes.

In point 8.13 it is stated that Merton Council's website is "the key resource for finding out information about and commenting on planning applications".

This is now clearly untrue since comments on applications are no longer posted online.

Point 8.29 states that personal details on all comments will be removed. If this is the case, why not then make those comments accessible online? It is a better democratic solution to allow people to browse information online at home rather than forcing them to visit the Civic Centre and browse comments there.

Failing to provide this information online creates accessibility and inclusivity problems and reduces community involvement.

Q11 Do you have any comments on Section 10: Principles of engagement

No

Q12 Do you have any other comments on the SCI?

No

Q8 Do you have any comments on Section 5: Our approach to involving the local community in planning?

We are concerned that representations will not be available to view on the planning website. This is a backward step, creates a barrier to transparency. We would at very least hope that comments from non statutory bodies such as Residents associations would be uploaded for residents to see. However, it seems only right that anyone should be able to see who has written and what they comments are, without having to add to the workload of the planning department by visiting the office to read the file. If GDPR is the reason for this change, it has been possible to upload letters and emails while redacting personal details. This seems a reasonable expectation.
