Wimbledon has a top-class orchestra, choral society and International Music Festival and yet all their productions have to be staged in a variety of sombre church halls. It is a disgrace that a town of the size and international reputation of Wimbledon has not had a concert hall for 20+years. You now have the chance to rectify that situation. For the sake of the thousands of ratepayers with culture running through their veins take the opportunity. Give them the concert hall they deserve. It is a chance that has been created by people who care, who would treasure your initiative and celebrate giving the town a performance space to rank internationally alongside its tennis tournament.
