Dear planners,

I appreciate the need to look at developing our town if the population keeps growing. However I am not convinced extra office space is the answer. People will be working from home more in the future and I would be devastated if you built new offices that lay empty for years.

Please hold the height of these buildings to 8 storeys to retain a feel of small town life that we have come to love. If the materials are as sympathetic as suggested then at least it won't have the look of Croydon, which every resident I have spoken to loathe the look and feel of. We are proud to live in an area that is mostly residential and recognisable as Wimbledon.
