We don't want high rise buildings. With tech going the way it is we will not need them. It is extremely short sighted to think we will need offices.

Secondly it will cause too much darkness and block out the small amount of sunshine we have. Which is so good for well being and mental health.

We don't need a city away from the city of London. We need a trees , open spaces and good residenital area for welling being. We need to escape.

Mental health will become a huge issue.. Also crime and ghettos will form.

Keep roof heights same as they did when wimbledon was built in Victorian era. Otherwise it will lose its charm.
